

DEADWING is the first and so far only porcupine tree coverband in Germany. A group of friendly music nerds who love the fantastic music of Steven Wilson more than anything else because of its complexity, its melodies and harmonics, as well as its social relevance. Nobody is able to turn progressive music into real songs with meaning like Wilson does.

DEADWING therefore believes, that this music absolutely deserves to be presented respectfully to its fans outside of Steven Wilsons own tours - and also to those, who want become fans.
